HE IS A CRIMINAL

So Says Gen. John Eaton and Can't Hold Office.

Amnesty Proclamation Didn't Apply to Him Because He Never Obeyed.

Ex United States Commissioner John Eaton has the following able criticism of Mormon Roberts in the New Journal:

"Roberts was convicted of violating the Edmunds law, and was punished. The pardons granted by President Harrison were conditional upon the giving up of polygamy.

"Roberts has never given up polygamy, and therefore he is not entitled to that amnesty or pardon. All who were polygamists and did not receive the benefit of that pardon were not entitled to vote—were not citizens. Mr. Cleveland carefully made the same discrimination against those who had not given up polygamy. Roberts, therefore, as an unpardoned criminal, is not entitled to vote or hold office under the constitution of Utah, and is, therefore, of course, disqualified for admission as a member of the House of Representatives.

"There can be no ex-post facto law or retroactive legislation under the constitution of the United States. This constitution adopted by the State of Utah prohibits polygamy in the strongest terms, but each Legislature has refused to enact any State law in accordance with this provision punishing polygamy. But the new constitution provides that all the laws of the Territory of Utah now in force, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force. And the act punishing polygamy is specially declared to be in force. One decision of a United States court has been made in accordance with this view. This, of course, forbids the cohabitation of a man with more than one wife. The attitude of every member of Congress, from States other than Utah, will personally be against polygamy. But Mormons touch the political nerve widely both by the influence of money and by votes. Roberts will seek admission in accordance with the usual form of law. He will have a large majority behind him and a Governor's certificate of election. On these points there can be no question.

"What Congress will do depends upon how far the members of the House will respond to the ten commandments and the sentiments of the people.

"The House of Representatives is the absolute and sole judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its members, and may expel a member by a two-thirds vote. No compliance with the forms of law and no large majority of any people should justify a criminal in sitting in the House of Representatives; and what the House will do about a polygamist depends entirely on its own judgment. It should be remembered that Roberts was elected over two opponents, both Mormons, but neither of them a polygamist, thus indicating that his promoters preferred a polygamist. This indicates the strength of the sentiment among polygamists. Under Statehood the people of Utah have control of their own marriage and divorce laws, and may repeal the provision in their State constitution prohibiting polygamy. But this would be repudiation of the most sacred pledges they made to secure Statehood. This large majority in favor of Roberts will naturally be construed as indicating a disposition on the part of his supporters and the Mormon leaders to practice their religion, as they call practicing polygamy without regard to the State constitution, and the manifesto of their leaders against plural marriages, and all the most solemn assurances given the American people against polygamy.

"It is a notable fact that the Governor of Utah, who is a Mormon, but not a polygamist, pleaded with the people not to elect Roberts. There is no doubt a considerable body of Mormons who would be true to the pledges of the leaders and the assurances given the American people. There can be no question should the sentiment against polygamy take such a hold on the public mind, that the House of Representatives will exercise its authority in keeping Roberts out.

"The present Congress should aid to that end by going to the extent of its constitutional rights in legislation against polygamy as a crime.

"The whole situation would be greatly simplified if an amendment to the national constitution could be adopted prohibiting polygamy. The press, the pulpit, the forum, every expression of opinion, every voice can be so lifted up against this evil, which destroys the sacredness of the home, degrades man and brutalizes woman, that no polygamist will dare to offer himself in a national office.

JOHN EATON."

Beggars Not Honest.

Addressing the Associated Charities at Taunton, Mass., the other day, Dean Hodges made the somewhat surprising statement that "the honest beggar does not exist." Mendicants, he said, are all dishonest, and their stories are all stock lies. "I have never yet investigated a case of this kind," the reverend speaker continued, "without finding a lie at the bottom of it, and have never yet found a satisfactory theory for the man who begs." Then he used a rather enlightening illustration: "There are many diseases in which a patient grows very hungry, and it seems as if you cannot refuse him food, but should you give him any thing to eat it would hasten his end. The beggar is in the stage of moral disease corresponding to this, and if you want to kill him feed him. You remember in the parable of the Prodigal Son that he went back to his father 'when no man gave unto him.' If any one had fed him he would not have gone back." It is impossible to accept as literally true the assertion that absolutely every man who asks alms is a liar and a fraud, for exigencies undoubtedly arise, and not very rarely, when temporary assistance in the shape of pennies or dime can be and is demanded and received without loss of self-respect. But that there are rare exceptions is beyond question, and as a rule it is safe enough to assume, even when the beggar's hunger is obviously real, that compliance with his demands will simply confirm his habits of living without honest work, and so deepen his degradation. Whether or not this fact justifies a curt refusal of every plea for aid is a question for individual decision. It certainly enables not a little hard-headedness to masquerade as wisdom, but most folks would rather make a few mistakes than to contest inability to discriminate between true and false tales of woe.—New York Times.

Machine in Working Order—Nominees Will Not be Required to put up Money.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—While discussing the political outlook for the Democratic party in the State a prominent Louisville citizen stated to a citizen of Louisville here one day this week that the nominees of the Democratic State convention would not be required to put up money to help carry the State, as they had the machine, and would be able to carry the State regardless of how the votes are cast.

He said: "The Republicans will have to put up with it or get out of the State. The machine is constructed to carry elections, and that is exactly what they intend doing."

"The Court of Appeals has declared the law to be constitutional, and the decision has put them out of the business."

Such expressions are frequently heard from the close allies of the Kentucky county Senator.

They not only intend to override the will of the majority in the next State election, but they boast of their ability to nominate Goebel, with the aid of their county machines, notwithstanding the fact that the masses of the Democratic party are opposed to him.

They realize the fact that Goebel's chances for the nomination have greatly diminished in the last few weeks, and are becoming desperate. They are determined to secure his nomination at whatever cost.

The opposition to Goebel is becoming stronger every day, and the leading Democrats here who are opposing him are absolutely confident that he will be defeated for the nomination.

Amusement for Passengers on Red Sea.

One of the chief amusements of passengers on steamers passing through the Red Sea on their way to India, China or Australia is throwing coins from the deck of the vessel into the water for little Arab boys to dive for.

Whenever a ship drops anchor at Aden or Suez it is immediately surrounded by boats, each containing two or three of these urchins. They at once begin to bereech the passengers to throw money into the water, for which they dive. The sea is so clear that coins can be seen far down as well as the dark skinned bodies shooting rapidly after them. The boys never fail to get the money before it has traveled far toward the bottom.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

We are authorized to announce Hon R. C. Jarnagin, of Beaver Dam, as a candidate for the nomination for Rep resentative, subject to the action of the Republican party.

There were 121 perished last year at the hand of his honor Judge Lynch.

The Louisville Dispatch Company has mortgaged the entire plant for $60,000. The Dispatch, like free silver and Willie Bryan, is now in the shut.

Or the 250,000 volunteer soldiers who answered the President's call in May and June 1861, have returned to their homes and to enjoy the peaceful walks of life.

The report of the War Commission contains 65,000 words. In the course of its investigation from September 24, 1898, it examined 495 witnesses, from the Commanding General to the private soldier.

The Democratic party will not want for leadership material. Out in South Dakota the birth of a child is reported, who has two tongues and no brain.
He is the best equipped boy leader in sight, beats Willie Bryan.

In Jessamine county there are nine candidates for Representative. The primary election will be held March 24th. If suchers are as thick over in Jessamine as they have been known in other parts, won't the boys have fun?

Judge J. S. Glenn, of this place, is favorably mentioned for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General. We can recommend the Judge for the nomination, but hesitate to recommend the nomination to the Judge.

The Court of Inquiry which was called to meet at Washington Tuesday to investigate Gen. Miles' charges as to the character of the meat provided for the army was delayed on account of the members of the court being snowbound in various parts of the country.

Our Tin Shop contemporary says:
"Many Republicans place their party above their religion." Don't know, brother, this "most" be so, but we know some Democratic newspapers which—if they didn't place their politics above their religion—would have mighty poor politics.

SENATOR ALLEN, wishing to illustrate the scintillating brightness of Col. Bryan, referred to him as a "comet." Some soulless editor cruelly remarked that time would verify the Senator's metaphor, and another adds the sacrilegious comment that the comet had two tails in 1896.

The death rate in Havana, Cuba, was 40 per cent. less in January, 1899, than the same month of 1898. The wonderful decrease is due to the improved sanitary conditions of the city wrought by American thrift and industry. It is only a matter of time under the direction of the United States when Cuba will be a healthy, educated and prosperous country.

The Herald indulges in some meaningless criticism upon the following excerpt from the record of the White-Boring contest case, "Mr. Barnett," queried Attorney Woolson, "I suppose you think the Republican party greater than the Gospel?" "Yes, sir," replied the deponent, "Yes, sir, I do." What would the Herald have had Col. Barnett answer? Would it have him quail before the stinging sarcasm of the wily lawyer? Col.
Barnett's answer was characteristic of Kentucky resentment to brutal tidi-cule and illustrates his superiority over the lawyer who sought to discredit his testimony as well as the newspaper that indulges in such silly criticism.

DOUBTLESS Aguinaldo has been greatly surprised at Uncle Sam's way of doing business. Spain was and surely fancied after her short experience with him that his power was as boundless as the universe. The lessons taught in these controversies are of great moral worth. No man should allow himself to be blinded by his own conceit. But he should consider the opposition in the light of reason, at all times remembering that "there are others." You may see your side of the question clearly and be surprised that everybody does not see it that way. Your neighbor takes the opposite view and wanders at your stupidity and silliness. Never be too positive. You are neither infallible nor invincible. Give every man due respect for his opinion.

COMMENTING ON our colonial policy the Oweahboro Messenger says:

"The Imperialists are attempting to make the United States the same as all European countries a government controlled by military dictation instead of civil statutes."

The Messenger is clearly mistaken in its views of the administration's policy.
There has not been a single demonstration upon the part of the government to indicate a desire for or inclination to military rule in the United States. Ours is a government for freemen and a government of freemen, its acts are the dictates of the greatest free people that has ever figured in the world's history. There is not a greater peace lover in America to-day than our great President. The SUMMING UP.

The War Investigating Commission says in concluding its report that the result of the Santiago campaign was the complete realization of the several objects contemplated: the capture of the city with its fortifications and numerous of war, the surrender of the entire province of Santiago with all the troops stationed therein, amounting to nearly 24,000, and the complete destruction of the Spanish fleet under Almiral Cervera. All this was accomplished without the loss of a prisoner, a gun or a color, and with less than 250 killed and less than 1,100 wounded. Losses which in comparison with results are less than have ever heretofore occurred in modern warfare.

The total deaths in battle, from wounds and diseases from the beginning to the end of the episode were less than 3,000, only a fraction over one per cent of the army.

One very important military victory and two of the most brilliant naval victories recorded in the annals of warfare were won and a nation supported by an hundred thousand veteran soldiers—humiliated in defeat by a volunteer army of civilians, without the High Honors for Dewey.

The Senate has passed a bill creating the office of Admiral in the navy.
The bill reads:

"That the President is hereby authorized to appoint, by selection and promotion, an Admiral of the navy, who shall not be placed upon the retired list except upon his own application; and whenever such office shall be vacated by death or otherwise, the office shall cease to exist."

It is intended that Dewey shall wear the crown and is an honor due him and a just recognition of the great Admiral's ability.

An Important Decision.

The Court of Appeals have decided in the case of the Commonwealth vs. the L. & N. R. R. Co., that under section 157 of the Constitution the trustees of a school district have no authority to levy a tax for school purposes to an amount exceeding in one year the income and revenue provided for such year without the assent of two-thirds of the voters thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. The exception in said section for school purposes applies alone to the rate of taxation which may be fixed by the legislature. The levy of a tax for four years to build a school house, without having submitted the question to the voters of the district, was illegal, and section 144 of the Kentucky Statutes, attempting to authorize such levy, is unconstitutional.

This is a very important decision and its effects are far reaching. It nullifies all old debts made by the trustees of common school districts, yet remaining unpaid. Besides the repudiation of such debts as a natural consequence will follow such a decision, it is detrimental to the welfare of the school interests. The furniture or the house of a common school district may be ever so bad, yet if the cost for furnishing or building exceeds the income of the district for one year, such furnishing or building cannot be done until the question of furnishing or building has been submitted to the qualified voters of the district and sanctioned by two thirds of the voters thereof. Holding an election necessarily entails cost and causes delay.

The McNery Resolution.

The following is the McNery resolution adopted by the Senate:

"That by the ratification of the treaty of peace with Spain it is not intended to incorporate the inhabitants of the Philippine islands into citizenship of the United States, nor is it intended to permanently annex said islands as an integral part of the territory of the United States, but it is the intention of the United States to establish on said islands a government suitable to the wants and conditions of the inhabitants of said islands to prepare them for local self-government and in due time make such disposition of said islands as will best promote the interests of the United States and the inhabitants of said islands."

NO PROSECUTION.

War Department May Allow Civil Trial.

Much Regret Is Expressed in the Colson-Scott Shooting Affray.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The news of the shooting affray of the fourth Kentucky at Anniston, Ala., in which Col. D. G. Colson was severely wounded was received with great regret at the war department yesterday.
The question naturally arose as to whether the men who were in process of being mustered out were under the jurisdiction of the war department, or whether they would have to be tried by the civil authorities.

Feuds, affrays and trouble of various kinds just when volunteer regiments are being mustered out have been so frequent during the existence of the present volunteer army that the Anniston incident caused more annoyance and caustic comment than would otherwise have been recorded it.

As a matter of strict interpretation, the officers in question, not having been finally discharged, are still under the jurisdiction of the war department, but it was said on good authority today that the department will not press its claim to prosecute the participants in the affray, but will allow them to be turned over to the civil authorities to be dealt with according to civil law.

SENTIMENT EQUALLY DIVIDED.

Middlesboro, Ky., Feb. 14.—About half of the members of Col. Colson's regiment, the fourth Kentucky infantry, arrived in this city today and last night, the majority of them being mountain boys who volunteered at the original organization of the regiment. Those who reached here today were in Anniston at the time of the shooting of Col. Colson, and several of them claim to have been present when their colonel was shot.

They have evidently forgotten the fact that they are no longer amenable to the military authorities, for any criticisms they may have to make regarding the encounter, for a dogged military reserve is the only answer that can be had from them when questioned about the Colson-Scott embroilment. The soldiers are to a man rejoicing over the fact that they are again from under the lash of military authority. Some whose tongues have been loosened by a too free use of Kentucky Bourbon tell some and stories of mistreatment, but do not attempt to fix the blame for their allegations. The sentiment among those who have reached this city is about equally divided between the Colson-Scott faction, but the Scott element show their allegiance by wearing a button with the picture of their idol.

Scott, they assert, befriended and aided them to a great extent in their efforts to be mustered, and their worship of him is attributed solely to that fact. Opinion among them is divided as to the possible result of Colson's wound, but advices received by Colson's friends and relatives in this city are to the effect that he is much better to day than he has been able to sit up.

SHOOTING NOT A SURPRISE.
Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 14.—The report of the shooting affray at Anniston, Ala., in which Col. Colson was wounded, was not a surprise to the friends here of the parties who participated in the difficulty. It has been known for sometime that trouble existed between them, and as both Scott and Colson were considered gallant men, trouble was expected sooner or later. It is feared that this will not end the controversy, and friends of both are fearful of the future.

A Letter From a Soldier.

Mr. W. B. DeHaven received the following letter from his son in Cuba: Havana, Cuba, Feb. 5, 1899.
Dear Father:—Your letter just received, am very glad to hear from you. I am having good health here.
I like this country fine. It will some day be the Paradise of the world. I went out to the cemetery Sunday. The carriage only cost us $8 per day. The cemetery is surrounded by a rock wall. People having relatives and friends buried there have to pay rent, and on failing to do that, the dead are exhumed and cast out.

This city has 260,000 inhabitants.
It has no sidewalks and its streets are like the alleys in our towns. The houses are all stone and only one story. Their floors are of stone and their windows are protected by iron bars. The Cubans work the oxen with the yoke on their head instead of the neck. They never wear mules in harness, but hitch them up in single file. They do not use wagons here, but carts instead.

We have moved our camp to a place near Maimonero, a town of three or four thousand inhabitants. All have not been up to the city yet. We are not allowed to go on account of small-pox there.

We have some Cuban soldiers working in our tent. I give them part of my dinner every day.

We are going to take a weeks march out through the country.
Will march 10 miles a day and will go in camp at night. Don't think we will be here longer than March or April. The Cuban soldiers are going to ratify the peace treaty. Guess we will be on guard in Havana. There are some Cuban soldiers camped close to us. They won't lay down their arms till Uncle Sam pays them. We may have some trouble with them yet. I will close. Your son,

A Well-Known Peddler Commits Suicide Near Fordsville, Ohio County.

Fordsville, Feb. 14.—G. D. Purvis, aged fifty, a well known peddler and clock tinker, committed suicide Sunday at his home, near here. He took morphine. His body was found Monday, twenty hours after death, frozen stiff. It was a horrible sight. The Coroner's verdict was in accordance with the above facts. The man's family was away from home on a visit, and on returning, his wife discovered the body. She was horrified and is almost prostrated with grief.

His remains were interred in the family burying ground's the 23d.

A Farm Residence Burned.

Mr. Lonnie Martin living about 5 miles east of here, lost his house by fire Saturday afternoon. The fire originated from a defective stove, and although the family were in the house at the time, the roof was falling in when the fire was discovered. Most of the household goods were gotten out and piled up in the road south of the house where it was thought they would be out of danger, but a sudden gust of north wind swept the angry flames down upon the pile of household goods and scarcely a thing of value was saved.

A pathetic incident of the fire was the burning of Mr. Martin's dog whose howling had called attention to the fire. The dog expressed his human like horror at the conflagration by pitiful and incessant howling, and just before the building collapsed ran under the house and despite the persistent efforts of the family to get him out, remained under the house and perished in the flames.

school on account of the snow and cold.

residence in the west end of Main street.

at her mother's in the Walton's Creek neighborhood.

Mr. Cris Ashby, of near here, was badly burned last week by clothing prove fatal.

Buried Alive.

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 14. In the investigation to day it was ascertained beyond a shadow of doubt that James Rigley, interred at Pendleton last week, was buried alive. The coffin lid was broken, the body turned over and the disinterment effected. The man lay in a trance three days before being buried.

NOTICE for the Benefit of the PUBLIC! Cyclone at Barrett's Ferry, Ky.,

Has rushed in on G. B. Miles' Entire Stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Groceries and Gents' Furnishing Goods and has Blown the Prices Down Below Zero. I have enlarged and repaired my house and am now in better position to give my customers bargains than I have ever been since I have been in business. I began business 27 years ago with a $15.00 stock. I have increased to $1,500.00 and owe the praise of same to my customers. When I first began I sold at 25 and 50 per cent. profit. I went on that way some time and reduced my profits to 15 and 25 per cent. and then reduced to 12 1/2 per cent. and have gained sufficient trade by each transaction to make more money by the latter and now I propose to reduce my profits again to 8 per cent. This looks small and some will say that I can't do this nor won't do it, but I will show you my bills and do what I say and will also explain why I can do it.

FIRST—Bear in mind that I get salary enough from the railroad company as agent for them and from the postoffice to pay all my family expenses and rent.

SECOND—By this reduction I will gain trade sufficient that I can discount my bills and the discount will pay the freight on my goods and put them in the shelves.

THIRD—My receipts now are $400.00 a month and at 12 1/2 per cent. I make clear $50.00 a month and now if I can get my trade doubled and my receipts run $800.00 a month, you see I will clear at 8 per cent. $64.00 and save my customers money and make $14.00 more myself. So you see I can do what I propose.

I will pay the Highest Prices for Produce at all times and want 10,000 ties by the first of July, for which I will pay 21c and 25c, one half cash and balance in trade on delivery of 20c and 24c cash on delivery.

Consult Your Minds As Each Other

And come and price up goods before buying and I will show you that you can save money and get the best Goods that you ever bought for the money. I have the nicest line of Shoes and Hats that ever has been brought to Barrett's Ferry, and at prices that will make them fit neat and nice.

Calicoes that will soon be out of season must go at 3c a yard and values in everything that I carry. 2000 No 7 sugar for $1.00. Arbuckle coffee at 11c. Thanking you for past favors and soliciting a continuance of same, I am, yours always ready to please.

These Prices Begin February 20, 1899, and continue balance of the year.

BEST PRESCRIPTION

Physicians Use and Recommend Paine's Celery Compound.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 12, 1898.
Gentlemen:—It gives me pleasure to certify to the good effects from Paine's celery compound for my patients in general debility and liver complaints.

Andrew L. Lundgren, M. D.
Why do the ablest physicians in America openly prescribe, use and recommend Paine's celery compound?

First, because Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine. It is not the discovery of some quack doctor of whom his profession never heard; it is not a concoction put up by some man who first invented a name, and then adopted a preparation to fit it; and it is not a secret remedy.

But it is, first, the result of the lifelong study of the greatest physician America has produced, a man whose reputation was world wide years before he had ever arrived at this wonderful formula; a man who has received the highest degrees from the best colleges, who was at the time of his great discovery a professor at Dartmouth and a lecturer in other universities, a scholar and a member of a family which has made its mark in every department of the public life in America.—Prof. Edward B. Phelps, M. D., LL. D.

Why do progressive and intelligent physicians of every school prescribe Paine's celery compound in preference to any other remedy?
Because it has prolonged the lives of thousands of sufferers; it has made their sick patients well.
The best test that can be applied to Paine's celery compound is to use it.
If one is "run down," feels without energy, listless, useless, fretful, take this great remedy, and note the change.
In its peculiar ability to at once invigorize the body, to make new blood and to regulate the nerves, lies the great value of Paine's celery compound in all wasting diseases and disorders of the kidneys, liver and stomach.
A neglected complaint, though slight at the beginning, may through neglect cause a lifetime of misery.
The ringing in the ears, the backache or the general debility unless the body is braced up again, may teach one by bitter experience that disease can creep through very small holes.

HENRY FIELD & SON.

Beaver Dam is reported to be the coldest point in the State, the thermometer registering 42 degrees below zero. At Hartford it stood 30 below and in many places in the State it fell to between 30 and 40 degrees below zero. Coal is short in many towns of the State, and poor people have suffered everywhere. Several cities of the State have opened soup houses to relieve the suffering of the poor. So severe has been the cold that birds and small fowls have been frozen to death. Farmers from all sections of the country report large numbers of little birds and even quails found frozen to death.

It is a notable fact that many good items are lost to the newspapers every week by the modesty of the people who hesitate to tell the editors matters concerning themselves. The right thing to do is to conscientiously stop the news paper man on the street, or any other place you may see him, and tell him you have been on a visit, have relations visiting you, that you and your wife have a new baby at the house, or that your wife entertained friends, or anything that is in any way a matter of news. If you have done anything mean keep that to yourself, for he always knows it; there are others who make it their business to tell about that.

The next term of Ohio Circuit Court will be an interesting one, and the indications are that much business will be transacted. There are 120 continued Common Pleas cases and 56 new Common Pleas cases for the coming term, and there are 110 ordinary cases continued from last term and 11 appearances been filed so far; there are 240 equity cases continued from last term, and 17 appearances, been filed so far. There are a number of important cases to come up for trial, one which is the contested whisky election case, appealed from the County Board of Contest. Altogether the next term of court will be an important term.

Stevens-Austin.

Mr. Otis Stevens and Miss Susie Austin were married at the home of Mr. Harrison Austin the 12th inst. Mr. Stevens is a nice young man, full of energy and ambition. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Perished in Flames.

The clothing of Mrs. Dyzel, an aged lady of Long Lick, caught fire from the cook stove, and she was so badly burned that it is believed she can not recover.

In the past ten days in Texas there have been twenty persons cremated, of whom sixteen were children, the majority having their clothing catch fire from open fireplaces.

The residence of Mrs. Sarah Ann Slaughter, near Skinsburg, was destroyed by fire Saturday night, and Mrs. Slaughter, who was eighty-four years old, perished in the flames. She lived alone.

Willie Latham, the ten-year old daughter of Col. P. S. Latham, of near Elkton, narrowly escaped being burned to death last Tuesday. While standing beside an open wood fire her dress caught fire, and soon enveloped her in flames. Her father saved her by smothering the flames.

Seventeen lives were lost in the burning of one of the cottages of the State Insane Asylum at Yankton, S. D., Sunday morning. The temperature was 23 degrees below zero when the fire broke out, and the suffering of those who escaped from the building in their night clothes was severe.

Mrs. Garland Kindred, who was partially paralyzed three weeks ago, met a terrible death at her home at Berea. Being unable to keep warm in bed, she was sitting in an invalid chair in front of a big wood fire, when her clothing in some way was ignited, and before assistance could reach her she was burned to a crisp, dying in a few hours in great agony.

LaGrippe.

Followed by Heart Disease, Cured by DR. MILES' HEART CURE.

M. R. C. SHULTS, of Winterset, Iowa, inventor and manufacturer of Shults' Safety Whiffletree Compound, writes of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. "Two years ago an attack of LaGrippe left me with a weak heart. I had run down, was thin and pale. I could not sleep, and I was constantly suffering from frequent sharp darting pains and palpitation caused a constant fear of sudden death, nothing could induce me to remain away from home over night. My local physician prescribed Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and in a few days I was able to sleep well and the pains gradually lessened, and finally ceased. I reduced the dose, having gained fifteen pounds, and am now feeling better in every way than I have for years."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle refunded, or money returned. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

NOTHING BUT TRUSTS.

W. H. BRIGHT.

There's a steel trust, an iron trust And a trust in lager beer, And there's many another trust To burden the glad New Year.

There's a milk trust, a pie trust And a trust in sparkling wine, There's a plow trust, a reaper trust,
And a trust in blunder twine.

There's an ice cream trust, a cake trust, A trust in crackers and bread,
And to scan the catalogue of trusts Is enough to turn one's head.

There's a paper trust, a type trust And a trust on sewing thread, And they follow you to the graveyard.

With a coffin trust when you're dead.

There's a nail trust and an oil trust And a trust in biscuit, too,
And the country is simply swarming With trusts.

Till the air with trusts is blue.

There's a glass trust, tobacco trust, A trust on pottery as well,
And if it isn't too hot for them They'll get up a trust in—well.

There's a butter trust, a sugar trust And a trust in the power to skin, And nobody knows how many more Till the trust have all come in.

There's envelope trusts and other trusts That will land us under the sod, And all that is left for the poor man Is to work and trust in God.

SHOT A GHOST.

Covered by a Sheet, "It" Posed in Cemetery for Nervy Man.

Charles Faust says he will not play ghost again, and Herman Carman has proved that he is not afraid of graveyard spectres. Both men live near English town, N. J. Carman goes into the village every night, and on his way home passes a cemetery. He frequently boasted that he was not afraid of ghosts Saturday night Faust determined to test Carman's bravery, so he took a bedsheet with him to the cemetery and hid behind a tombstone. When Carman approached Faust drew the sheet over his head and around his body, stood erect on one of the tombstones and, pointing a finger at Carman, groaned diabolically.

Carman heard the groan and saw the white figure, then he pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired at the form, which was an excellent target against the background of black.

There was another groan, but this time one of pain.

"Carman, you've shot me!" cried Faust. "Thought a bullet couldn't hurt a ghost," said Carman dryly. Then he examined Faust and found the bullet had entered his shoulders. He took him home. The wound is not serious.

ARE YOU A DEMOCRAT?

An old adage reads: "There is a place for everything," and for everything to be in its place, the LOUISVILLE DISPATCH should find a place in the home of every DEMOCRAT in the SUNKY SOUTH. The Dispatch is the people's paper, owned by the people, and is always ready to fight for the cause of the people. IT STANDS SQUARELY ON THE CHICAGO PLATFORM, without the aid or consent of the Gold Bug Monopolies, and a fair comparison of its news service (now being furnished over leased wires by the New York Sun, the Chicago Inter Ocean and the Northern Press Association) with that of any other paper, will fully verify its motto, "If you see it in the Dispatch it's so, and if it's so it is always in the Dispatch."

The Dispatch also has a staff of over 200 active correspondents in the South, and will positively GUARANTEE MORE THAN DOUBLE THE SOUTHERN NEWS of any other Louisville paper. Get the Dispatch; it gives the news and tells the truth about it.

Daily, 8 pages; Sunday, 24 pages; Weekly, 8 pages. We club with the Weekly Dispatch at the remarkably low price of $1.25.

A Candidate for Matrimony.

A rising politician at Michigan recently made application for the hand of his sweetheart in the following novel manner, says the Nashville News: "My dear Miss: I hereby announce myself as candidate for your hand and shall use all fair and honorable means to secure the nomination. I know there are many candidates in the field, and I hesitate to enter the race, but now I am in to stay. My views have often been expressed in your hearing and need not be repeated here. You know I favor the gold standard of love—100 cent-dollar love—and a maintenance of that standard after marriage. If you decide to confer upon me the honor I seek, please fix a date for a caucus with your mother. I have no objection to her acting as temporary chairman of the permanent organization. Should the result of the caucus be satisfactory we can soon hold the primaries and select the date and place of the convention. I have never believed in long campaigns so if you decide to honor me I will ask you to make the convention date as early as possible. Devotedly yours."

The following telegram answered it.

"Caucus unnecessary. Nomination unanimous. Come at once and fix date of ratification."

Precautions Against Small-pox.

OFFICE OF STATE BOARD OF HEALTH BOWLING GREEN, KY., Feb. 6, 1899.
To the Officials, Physicians and People of Kentucky:

Small-pox has been epidemic in the mining regions of Alabama for the past two years, and from this center of infection, directly or indirectly, repeated serious and expensive outbreaks have occurred in Kentucky.

Recently about forty cases have developed in Louisville, one at Covington, one at Nicholasville, and several suspicious cases are reported in a mining section in Ohio county. The disease also exists in Cincinnati, Indianapolis and St. Louis, which have constant railroad connection with many Kentucky towns. So far the disease has been almost exclusively confined to negroes, a large part of this race being unprotected by vaccination, but this exemption of whites cannot long be hoped for if it continues to spread, as nearly a third of the white people of this State are also unprotected.

Under these circumstances it is the duty of this Board to warn our officials and people of the necessity of prompt action to prevent serious local outbreaks. Fortunately the prevention of this disease is as certain and safe as it is cheap and easy. Vaccination and re-vaccination, properly done with reliable virus, is a sure preventive and is entirely free from danger. It should always be done by a competent physician, with clean hands and instruments, at three points, an inch apart, on a well cleaned arm; should be allowed to dry thoroughly before the sleeve is drawn down, and should be carefully protected from rubbing or other injury until the sore has entirely healed.

The Board advises that each city and town at once pass and enforce a compulsory vaccination ordinance, beginning with the colored race, but reaching every body; that an isolation hospital, and suitable grounds for its location be secured in advance; that visiting and strange negroes be hunted out, vaccinated and kept under observation and especially that physicians practicing among negroes be advised as to the difficulty of recognizing mild cases of small pox in this race, and of the importance of calling experienced counsel in every doubtful or suspicious case.

Had Madison, Bell, Knox, Whitley, Laurel and Jackson counties taken these precautions when advised to do so last year, thousands of dollars would have been saved in actual outlay to say nothing of the far greater loss from interference with traffic and travel. Under our laws this expense must be met by the counties and cities affected, and it can only be avoided or made light by proper preparation before a case appears.

Quarantines against places infected with small-pox, the first resort of unprepared communities, do much harm in retarding the real work to be done, and, if rigidly enforced, are much more expensive than the simple precautions advised by sanitarians everywhere. No such quarantine can be established legally without the consent of this Board, and this consent will not be given unless the circumstances are very exceptional.

Fresh and reliable virus may always be had from the Henry Drug Co., Louisville. Vaccination from the arm of a child known to be healthy is equally reliable.

This Board holds itself in readiness to aid local boards to the full extent of its powers, but little outside aid will be needed if each community will intelligently prepare to take care of itself.

PATRIOTIC WORDS

Spoken by Gov. Taylor on Retiring

As Chief Executive of Tennessee—Seeks Refuge in Private Life.

"Bob" Taylor, the eloquent lecturer and statesman upon retiring from the Governor's chair at the expiration of his third term as Governor of Tennessee, delivered the following interesting valedictory in the presence of a large assembly of Tennessee politicians at the State house:

"I am about to shut off this mortal coil of politics and fly away to the heaven of my native mountains, where I may think and dream in peace, safe from the sickening sting of unjust criticism; safe from the talons of some old political vulture; safe from the slimy kiss and the keen dagger of ingratitude.

"I do not mean to say that all politicians are vultures or assassins; for the great majority of our public men are upright and honest and worthy of the confidence reposed in them by the people; yet there are black wings in the political firmament, and reptiles crawl and hiss in every Capitol. But, thank God, the live thunders of eternal truth always clear the atmosphere, and the heel of justice will surely bruise the serpent's head.

"I do not retire from this office with the rankling of disappointment and chagrin in my bosom, but rather as one who retires from labor to rest; from war to peace; from trouble to happiness.

"I do not retire, the somnambulist of a shattered dream, but with all the buds of hope hurrying into bloom and all the bowers of the future ringing with melody. I am contented with my lot in life. Three times I have worn the laurel wreath of honor, twined by the people of my native State, and that is glory enough for me.

"While I believe that the good of politics outweighs the bad, yet how thorny is the path, and how unhappy the pilgrimage to him who dares to do his duty! There are no flowers except a few bouquets snatched from the graves of fallen foes; there is no happiness except the transient thrill of cruel triumph, which passes like a shadow across the heart.

"Every honest man who runs for office is a candidate for trouble; for the fruits of political victory turn to ashes on the lips.

"To me there is nothing in this world so pathetic as a candidate. He is like a mailer without a compass, drifting on the tempest-tossed waves of uncertainty, between the smiling cliffs of hope and the frowning crags of fear. He is a walking petition and a living prayer; he is the pack horse of public sentiment; he is the dromedary of politics. And even if he reaches the goal of his ambition, he will soon feel the beak of the vulture in his soul.

"I am no longer a candidate. Never again will I be inaugurated into public office. The ark of my humble public career now rests on the Ararat of private life, and I stand on its peaceful summit and look down on the receding flood of politics. The dove of my destiny has brought me an olive branch from happier lives, and I go hence to labor and to love.

"I take with me a heart full of gratitude and a soul full of precious memories; gratitude to the people for their unwavering confidence in me; precious memories of my friends who have been kind and true.

"The record that I have made is an open book to all. I am willing to live by that record; I am willing to die by it. For whatever mistakes I may have committed, I have kept steadily in view the honor of the people.

"As I have already presented my views on public questions in my recent message to the General Assembly, I deem it unnecessary to further discuss them on this happy occasion; happy to our new Governor; happy to you; happy to me; happy to us all!

"It only remains for me to bid you all an affectionate and final farewell, and to express the prayer that the Christ who died for love and mercy's sake will guide our chief executive and all who shall follow him in the paths of peace and love, and haptize them with the spirit of mercy. Farewell, farewell!"

Marvels of the Human Body.

Human being are of all sizes, but the tall man is less common than the short; only one man in every 208 exceeds the height of 6 feet. For every foot of stature a man should weigh 26 to 28 pounds, a proportion that is not the lot of all men in these hurrying, scurrying days.

An average sized man weighs 140 pounds, a woman 125 pounds. Curiously enough, the mean height and weight of lunatics are below those of sane people. Another unexpected thing in this respect is that a negro's skeleton weighs more than that of an Englishman.

The vitalizing power is the blood drop of which takes but twenty seconds to go the rounds of the body. There passes through the heart once in every three minutes an amount of this precious fluid equal to all that contained in the body.

The pulse of the blood circulation reveals some astonishing and almost unthought-of truths. It is estimated that, assuming the average space the heart travels 2-7 yards in sixty seconds; in other words, seven miles an hour 168 a day, or 61 3/4 a year.

In a man of 84 could have one single blood corpuscle floating in his blood all his life it would have traversed in that period no less than 5,150,880 miles.

The average weight of the brain of the adult male is three pounds eight ounces, of a female, two pounds four ounces. The woman's brain begins to decline in weight after the age of 30, and man's not till ten years later. According to high authorities, the nerves, with their branches and minute ramifications connecting with the brain, exceed 10,000,000 in number.

The palms of the hand and soles of the feet are composed of cushions of fat, in order that sudden jolts and violent blows may be successfully resisted and no injury done to the muscles and bones underneath.

The muscles—of which the tongue monopolizes eleven—and bones of the human structure in combination are capable of more than 1,200 different motions.

The teaching of experience indicates that accidents are far more likely to occur to the right leg or arm than to the left. Further evidence of this fact is supplied by the makers of artificial limbs; they dispose of many more appendages to the right side of the body than to the other. Statistics show that in fifty four cases out of a hundred the left leg is stronger than the right.

If a man could move his legs proportionately as fast as an ant, he would travel not far short of 800 miles an hour.—London Mail.
